

Allowing media companies to own more than several stations in one market will completely homogenize all media and allow advertisers to monopolize markets. This country will lose a great deal of diversity.